Canadians Under Crerar Named As 3rd Allied Army

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King announced amid desk thumping in the Commons today that the Canadian 1st Army under Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar has taken a place in the line of battle in France.

By ROSS MUNRO

AT THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS (CP)—For the first time in the history of the Dominion, Canada has an army formation in the field.

The 1st Canadian Army, with Lt. Gen. Crerar as commander, was formed here and has been operating as such for more than a week. The troops under its command are in the sector on the eastern end of the Allied line now cutting across northwest France.

Gen. Crerar came to France with his tactical and planning headquarters June 18. Since then army headquarters has gradually been built up to full strength.

All the Canadian troops in Normandy came under the command of the Canadian Army July 31, leaving the British 2nd Army, under which they had fought until then.

This Canadian army is composed of British units as well as Canadian troops who have been under British command—and now it is the other way around.

The Allied line now has the Canadian 1st Army on the left, the British 2nd Army in the center and the U.S. 1st Army on the right.

Canadian Army headquarters was first established in the spring of 1942 in England, when it was set up under Gen. McNaughton and had one Canadian corps under its command. Later a second Canadian corps was added. Thus it had full status as an army formation which can consist of from two to five corps.

One of the corps now is fighting in Italy as part of the British 8th Army.

Gen. Crerar, who commanded the corps in Italy early this year, was appointed army commander in succession to Gen. McNaughton and he took over as the final invasion training and planning were under way.

YOUNG OFFICERS

The army headquarters staff here is made up of young officers who received their training at staff colleges in England and Canada. A number of them have had combat experience in other theatres. Some officers who fought at Dieppe hold important posts at headquarters, and one of them is Gen. Crerar's chief of staff.

The headquarters is set up under canvas and camouflage nets in a wooded area and from here the Canadian battles will be directed.

Russians Launch Another Drive On South Front

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Uplashing another powerful striking force on the southern flank of their active front, the Russians have captured Drobovycz, large oil centre and fortress guarding potential invasion routes through the Carpathian mountains into Czechoslovakia.

Other Soviet troops were reported today to have pushed across the Dubissa River in the drive on East Prussia, taking 30 villages and approaching within 50 miles of the East Prussian city of Tilsit.

(London meanwhile heard a broadcast order of the day by Stalin which announced the German stronghold of Sambor in the Carpathian slopes 42 miles southwest of Lwow had been captured by the Red Army today.)

Other Red Army units appeared to have trapped a segment of enemy troops in the San-Vistula River triangle, more than 100 miles south of Warsaw.

PETROV LEADING

Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov, taking over the 4th Ukrainian Army commanded formerly by Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin, emerged as the leader of an 11th Army attacking the Germans on a winding 1,200-mile front from Finland to the Carpathians.

Premier Stalin announced the fall of Drobovycz in a special order of the day. The city—in the part of Galicia annexed by Russia in the 1939 partition of Poland—was the target of U.S. shuttle bombers last June 27.

Gen. Ivan D. Chernikhovskiy's 2nd White Russian Army was striking north of the Niemen River in a drive toward Tilsit and the Baltic coast of Germany, in another effort to split German army groupings along the sea.

Reich Oil Plants Heavily Pounded, Other Targets Hit

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON (AP)—More than 300 U.S. heavy bombers blasted at two synthetic oil plants deep in the Reich today in concert with from 500 to 750 U.S. heavyweights which struck at vital targets over a wide area of France.

NO PLANES LOST

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. heavy bombers from England with fighter-bomber escorts attacked a German aircraft factory Sunday at Rahlm, 10 miles north-west of the Polish port of Gdynia, and landed on Russian bases without loss.

Crews from the 8th Air Force flight reported excellent bombing results and said the objectives were covered by bursts. Flames and smoke spouted upward as the group flew on toward Russia.

Anti-aircraft fire was heavy at some points along the long route, but enemy fighters were encountered only in weak strength.

The attack was the 20th operation in which U.S. planes have used Russian bases of the Eastern Command. The first shuttle bombers landed in the Soviet Union June 2.

Gdynia, a city of 113,000, lies at the north end of the Polish Corridor. Some of the first shells of the Second Great War fell there.

Few Robots Sunday, Storage Depots Hit

LONDON (CP)—German flying bomb attacks continued on London and the southern counties today, Sunday night bombs came over at short intervals, causing a few casualties.

The overnight bombardment capped a week-end of sporadic robot attacks which reached fairly heavy proportions Saturday night, but tapered off during the daylight hours Sunday.

The Air Ministry announced 56 flying bomb storage depots in northern France had been destroyed and 14 heavily damaged in recent Allied heavy bomber assaults.

M.P.'s of All Parties Cheer King On 25th Birthday As Liberal Chief

Silver Anniversary

OTTAWA (CP)—A thumping round of applause greeted Prime Minister King as he entered the House of Commons today on the 25th anniversary of his selection as leader of the Liberal Party.

Members of all parties joined in the applause and continued slapping their desks as Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, congratulated the Prime Minister.

Mr. Graydon said he thought it appropriate for some one outside the "political family circle" to pay tribute to the public service rendered during a term of office that was longer than that of any other living leader.

In a laudatory vein, Mr. Graydon said today was the silver anniversary of the Prime Minister's wedding to the Liberal Party. Mr. King's courtship with the Liberal Party had been a long one and sometimes spectacular. His technique during the courtship was surprisingly successful for a bachelor.

FAMILY GREW

Mr. Graydon said the party had had its ups and downs during the 1920's and the 1930's. But the political family had grown in 1940 to the extent of almost "parental embarrassment."

Since that time, however, some of the family had stepped out and formed parties of their own. Back yard gossip said there were signs that a further reduction in the family could soon be expected.

"However, such occasion as this is not the time for neighborhood political gossip, and I say to the Prime Minister that in days to come he will have our good will and our generous support."

The tasks ahead were great. The burden on the shoulders of the Prime Minister were heavy. It was fitting that "the Canadian nation salute the Prime Minister on this, his day of days."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said he would like to join with the leader of the opposition, in wishing the Prime Minister long life.

He said the contribution Mr. King had made to Canada "will be remembered in future histories of this land."

Mr. Coldwell added he hoped Mr. King might be long spared to give his counsel and advice no matter what the future political circumstances might be.

John H. Blackmore, Social Credit leader, rose with a broad grin and said he wished Mr. King "great success but not too much."

The House of Commons, on the suggestion of Opposition leaders, today decided not to sit tonight, to give Liberal members an opportunity to attend a dinner in honor of Mr. King.

4 Tank Divisions Trying to Split Allied Forces

By WES GALLAGHER

WITH THE U.S. 1ST ARMY IN FRANCE (AP)—The Germans today launched their largest counterattack since the landings in France, using at least four armored divisions between Mortain and Sourdeval in a drive aimed at splitting the Normandy and Brittany Allied forces.

(A CBC broadcast from Normandy heard in New York late today said Allied forces, including "Tankbuster" Typhoons, have destroyed or damaged 88 German tanks engaged in the German counterattack east of Avranches.)

The attack, started this morning, made penetrations up to a depth of three miles in the area of Cherches la Rousse, but was being held and pounded by artillery and air forces.

A high U.S. officer said the German attack was not expected to make much progress and that the result would be destruction of armor which the enemy could ill afford.

"The air forces are having a field day," he commented.

Another penetration was made toward Juvisy, and the U.S. were driven out of Mortain, but they still held the high ground around the village. To the north of the sector U.S. troops captured Vire.

The German thrust was aimed at Avranches. It was the largest coordinated enemy blow at the U.S. forces since D-Day, and the divisions making it had been drained from various sectors of France.

Some crack U.S. units were meeting the attack.

R.A.F. rocket-splitting Typhoons teamed up with the U.S. Air Force to strike full force at the German armor.

The attack was on a narrow eight-mile front and was concentrated.

2nd Army Drives Wedge Across Orne

By GLADWIN HILL

SUPREME ALLIED HEADQUARTERS (AP)—British 2nd Army troops on a two-mile front have driven a wedge across the Orne River from the west, threatening to outflank enemy positions opposing the Canadian sector south of Caen, while U.S. patrols reached Domfront today, broadening to 50 miles the front on which the 1st Army is advancing toward Paris, 140 miles east.

The British drive across the Orne, just north of German-held Thury-Harcourt, advanced to the western fringes of the Cing-laid forest, Associated Press correspondent Roger D. Greene said today, while cutting deep behind the enemy are facing Caen on a line from May-sur-Orne eastward through Rocquencourt, Thury-la-Campagne, La Hogue and Vimont.

Canadian Attack Stiffly Opposed

A Canadian attack on May had met heavy enemy opposition, today's communique said.

Other Allied troops took Vire—the Germans' last real anchor in western Normandy. The fall of that major communications centre furiously defended for weeks by the Germans, opened the way for linking the initial Normandy clean-up with the new drive eastward from Brittany.

Advanced spearheads of the U.S. forces now are tightening their stranglehold on the doomed Nazi garrison at Brest, one of the five great ports in the peninsula. Americans have captured the Brittany shrine city of Auray between Vannes and Lorient.

The U.S. troops have taken 13,300 prisoners in Brittany, and 3,000 Germans have been found dead.

Headquarters confirmed that the German garrison at the naval and submarine port of Lorient (pop. 50,000) had asked to surrender to the U.S. forces, but it gave no additional information on the situation there.

Civil Defence Teams Hold Field Day

First women in Victoria to participate in a stirrup pump contest are from the James Bay District. Left to right: Mrs. J. H. Williams, Mrs. J. Farwell, Mrs. M. Vogler and Mrs. H. I. MacKenzie, captain. May Dixon and Mrs. Williams were 'spares.'

Nearly 100 men and women, including civil defence officers from the island and mainland, personnel and interested onlookers gathered at the city Fire Department headquarters Sunday morning to watch the stirrup pump and auxiliary fire exercises, which marked the opening events in three-day civil defence competitions which will conclude Tuesday night.

With speed and competent handling of equipment the three-man and in one instance three-women teams in the stirrup pump competition opened the event with the test of extinguishing a fire. The equipment was a full drum of water, two buckets and pump, with the fire 200 feet distant from the water supply. Included in this event was the extinguishing of a fire on the second floor of a building.

WOMEN COMPETE

"This is the first time that women have participated in this type of competition in Victoria," said Charlton Smith, warden for James Bay, p r o u d l y, as he watched the team under direction of Mrs. H. I. MacKenzie.

"They are housewives who must do their training in the evenings and have really worked hard."

With Mrs. MacKenzie were Mrs. Julia Farwell and May Dixon and the team's "spares" were Mrs. J. H. Williams and Mrs. Myrtle Vogler. Even leaving home early on a Sunday morning to participate in the exercises did not dampen their enthusiasm for work, which most of them have been doing since the inception of Civil Defence.

Burnside district under captaincy of T. E. Rigby placed first in the stirrup pump competition, the Victoria West was first in the auxiliary fire services competition.

O. E. Day was first, Col. F. G. Hood, second and J. Marston third in the Incident Officer competition held in the afternoon at Civil Defence headquarters, and judged by Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, Dominion Director of Training for Civil Defence; J. A. Clou, C.D. Controller for Burnside and O. A. Butters, chief warden for Oak Bay. Contestants viewed a miniature model of a supposed disaster and then reported on incidents as they would be expected to do in the event of an actual occurrence.

KEEN AS MUSTARD

"I have been impressed by many things," Inspector Moodie said after judging the competition. "Contestants were as keen as mustard and they have handled the work in a very competent manner."

He spoke of the value of organization in the event of a disaster and said he felt all who participated in the Civil Defence exercises held in Victoria Sunday could be trusted to do their part well in the event of an emergency.

Auxiliary fire departments from Civil Defence districts 11, 1, 2 and 6 competed for the city championships, with Victoria West taking first place. Teams comprised six men each who for their first test had to lay out 300 feet of 2½-inch hose with 1-inch nozzle and direct water to knock over the target. They had to lay a second line of 300 feet and direct water on the target.

Deputy Chief Robert Taylor, Captain R. Brindle and Captain Philip Guy judged the morning competitions, with Walter Duncan, timekeeper. Auxiliary fire teams were trained by Lieuts. F. Briers, Mike Bennet and Howard Carter, and Fireman John Stewart. Inspector A. H. Bishop, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot and Fire Chief Alex. Munroe were in attendance.

Following are the results of Sunday's competitions—Stirrup pump, 1. District 2 (Burnside); 2. District 1 (Victoria West) and 3. District 8 (James Bay). First event in the stirrup pump competition was won by James Bay, second event by Burnside, and third event by Burnside.

Auxiliary fire competition: 1. Victoria West, under captaincy of Lieut. Mike Bennett; 2. Fernwood, under Fireman J. Stewart; 3. Burnside, under Lieut. H. Carter and 4. Foul Bay, under Lieut. F. Briers.

The 500-gallon event in this competition was won by Victoria West; 150-gallon event, Foul Bay; No. 3 event, Burnside and No. 4 event Victoria West.

331 Contestants
For 90 Seats In Quebec Election

MONTREAL (CP)—A record number of candidates made their final drives for election today as a record number of voters prepared to cast their ballots in Quebec's general elections Tuesday.

Ninety seats are at stake in the voting, with polling in the 91st—Charlevoix-Saguenay—deferred until Aug. 24. Three hundred and thirty-one contestants have entered the race for the 90 seats.

Liberals and the Union Nationale each have a full slate of 90 representatives, while the young Bloc Populaire, facing its first provincial test, has 80. In addition, the C.C.F. has candidates in 24 ridings, the Social Credit Party in 11, and the Labor-Progressive Party in four. Remainder of the candidates' list is made up of Independents of various designations.

More than 1,800,000 persons are eligible to vote, over 1,000,000 more than eligible in 1939, with the increase attributable in part to extension of the provincial franchise to women and in part to the wartime increase in population in the province.

Seventy-six per cent of those eligible cast their ballots in the general elections of 1939 when the Liberals swept back into power after a three-year term.

Brittany is caught in a trap of Allied steel. Not one of the seven ships of the convoy and escort, apparently evacuating key personnel from the battered Brittany garrison, escaped during the fierce engagement in which the attacking patrol force suffered some casualties, a communique from the Admiralty announced.

Later the prowling warship patrol, consisting of one British cruiser and two British and two Canadian destroyers, caught a second convoy of undetermined size and forced it back into St. Nazaire, once a haven for U-boats but now attacked by U.S. troops,

Uncle Sam Crushes
Transport Strike
In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The United States government, invoking wartime controls, had crushed Philadelphia's "wildcat" transit walkout today after a week in which vital war production slumped, negroes and white men battled in the streets and a city of 2,000,000 waited virtually helpless against the will of 6,000 strikers.

While troops in battle dress patrolled all bus, trolley, subway and subway-elevated trains and Philadelphia's roads to work as usual again, army officers who seized the lines last Thursday night announced service had been fully restored—with regular transit employees manning the cars. The Philadelphia Transportation Company said 95 per cent of the strikers had registered to return on their varying shifts to today in compliance with the army's "work-or-be-fired" ultimatum and well before its 120 a.m. E.D.T. Monday registration deadline.

Canadian Ships
Help in Stopping
Nazi Dunkerque

LONDON (CP)—British and Canadian warships sank one seven-ship convoy Sunday and chased another back to St. Nazaire, when it was trying to escape as Allied ground forces closed around the port.

Two Canadian destroyers added fresh honors to their records by participating in the blow which smashed the Germans' first "Little Dunkerque" attempt to escape from Brittany.

They were the Haida, veteran of several Channel actions in recent weeks, and the Iroquois. For the former it was an old story, for June 9 she forced ashore a German destroyer near Ushant and July 15 took part in another offensive patrol which resulted in two enemy vessels being sunk. Last April she also took part in two engagements off the French coast.

The Haida was commanded by Capt. H. D. de Wolf, D.S.O., and the Iroquois, credited last November with taking part in "one of the most outstanding rescues of the war" by saving the crew of a merchant vessel, by Cmdr. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C. Both are of the Royal Canadian Navy.

One convoy was intercepted west of St. Nazaire as it steamed southward, possibly for Bordeaux, the only good Atlantic port remaining to the enemy now that

Figures Show Decline In Casualty Rate

OTTAWA (CP)—An analysis of Canadian Normandy casualty figures released Saturday and covering the 45-day period from D-Day, June 6, to July 20, shows a decline in the casualty rate.

If the rate of 2,815 casualties for the first 15 days had been maintained the total for the 45-day period would have been 8,445, whereas it actually was 6,545.

Canada's total casualties for the approximately six weeks' period were made of 519 dead, 4,354 wounded and 1,272 missing.

Using these figures and figures issued previously as a basis, it is possible to offer this comparative table:

	June 6-20	June 21-30	July 1-20	Total
Dead	519	414	414	1,347
Wounded	1,272	2,293	4,354	8,445
Missing	1,063	119	1,272	2,454
Total	2,854	3,726	6,545

Mein Kampf Quoted By BBC to Austria

WASHINGTON (ONA)—British radio has inaugurated a new campaign for anti-Nazis in Austria, using a sentence from Hitler's own "Mein Kampf," which says: "Whenever a nation is led to disaster by abuses of the government, revolt by every member of that government is not a privilege but a duty."

The British broadcast, reported here by the Office of War Information, told Austrian anti-Nazis to copy down the sentence and send it to "all anti-Nazis of your acquaintance" and also to "Razi big wigs" in order to increase their jitter.

BBC also advised the Austrians to write on every wall the reminder: "Mein Kampf, page 104."

Lifts Race Bars On Teachers

ROME (ONA)—Italian Minister of Public Instruction has issued a decree ordering the reinstatement of teachers and other employees of the educational system who had been dismissed from their posts by the Fascists under the racial laws.

Order is effective as of the date of liberation of the territory in which the personnel reside.

In his announcement, Minister Di Ruggiero condemned the racial laws which, he said, have "most seriously offended our civilization and our true traditions."

He stressed the necessity of removing the effects of this legislation as soon as possible.

Independents In Alberta Hope To Get Silent Vote

EDMONTON (CP)—Week-end exchange of blows in the nearly completed Alberta election campaign featured an attack on the C.C.F. and Social Credit parties by J. Percy Page, president of the Independent Citizens' Association of Alberta. The province will vote tomorrow.

Mr. Page, Independent candidate for re-election in Edmonton and former coach of the champion Edmonton Grads basketball team, declared "the C.C.F. has no more chance of being the winner in the present election than I have of flying home (from Millet) to Edmonton—and I'm not going to do that."

He said the Social Credit party was using "subtle propaganda" in its appeal for re-election, by saying voters should unite to defeat the C.C.F.

Mr. Page said the Social Credit and C.C.F. parties both have almost fanatical zeal while the Independents depend largely on the silent vote. Independent candidates were contesting 36 seats in the election contest, enough to form a government "and when the ballots were counted we may be in the rider's seat."

C.C.F. member of the Ontario Legislature for York East, Miss Agnes Macphail said she was astonished "at the terrific fear of dictatorship that exists over all the province."

Tim Buck of Toronto, national Labor Progressive leader, said he criticized C.C.F. actions, but any of his party candidates elected would co-operate with the C.C.F. in the Alberta Legislature. Labor Progressives have 30 candidates for 57 provincial seats.

Quebec Returns Delayed for Albertans

OTTAWA (CP)—Radio stations in Alberta will not be permitted to broadcast Quebec election results Tuesday night until the polls in Alberta close at 8 p.m. C.B.T., the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has ruled.

The Canadian Broadcasting Act of 1936 provided that no election results could be broadcast in any province before the polls closed in that province. The reason behind this law was that with a four-hour spread in time between Nova Scotia and British Columbia, voters in western provinces might know the trend of the returns in the east before they voted in the west and they might change their vote as a result.

The act also provides that political items may not be broadcast within two days before an election and that means that the Alberta and Quebec stations will not be permitted to broadcast election news from either province until the elections are over.

The Alberta stations may not broadcast about the Quebec campaign and vice versa.

'Blind Confidence' Of Nazi Gauleiters Sought By Hitler

LONDON (AP)—The Nazis struggled to bring the lid on a volcano of revolt within Germany today and broadcast a bid by Hitler for "blind confidence" on the home front in the face of Allied success on the battlefields of Europe.

The German agency D.N.B. said Hitler made a pep talk Friday to Reich leaders and gauleiters at his headquarters in which he reiterated his decision to fight to the end.

This account said he had told his followers he was "thankful" because he believed it is necessary for the nation to have a man like who would not capitulate under any circumstances and who holds high the banner of faith and confidence" and added:

"I believe that nobody could do this better than I am doing, whatever may come I shall always stand up a bearer of the banner."

"I am not afraid of the fight against external enemies," Hitler continued. "At the end we will finish all the same. All I need is the conviction that in our rear there is absolute security, blind confidence and faithful collaboration."

In reply Maj.-Gen. Konstantin Merl, Reichsminister and chief of the labor service, declared: "Your life is our life."

This heightened belief here that Hitler, barring betrayal or overthrow, will go down fighting and is determined to bring under the Nazi banner all possible Germans, possibly as a nucleus for a postwar underground army.

12 to 50 Million Homeless Feared

By VICTOR M. BIENSTOCK
ROME (Special Cable)—At dawn, just a few days ago, an Adriatic coastal steamer slipped into a south Italian port and disgorged on the quay a human cargo of 800 Yugoslav child refugees who have lost their parents and families. Allied relief workers who rushed to the port to take charge soon discovered that 208 of these children were too young even to know their family names and could not be identified by the older children.

These tiny refugees, now awaiting transit to one of the camps in the middle east, represent only one infinitesimal part of the gigantic tragedy of Europe's lost and dispersed peoples whose plight will be one of the most difficult of all postwar problems.

International Red Cross at Geneva and the Allied agencies which expect to bear the brunt of this problem agree that there will be no less than 12,000,000 men, women and children dispersed in foreign lands, far from their old homes, many of them separated from their families for years and not knowing whether wives and children, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters are alive or dead. Estimates of the expected total run as high as 30,000,000.

This number includes the millions who were forced to flee before advancing armies, the other millions whose homes were destroyed and who had to seek sanctuary elsewhere, the millions whom the Nazis conscripted for forced labor in Germany and every corner of Europe, the millions who were herded into concentration camps or driven into exile for racial and religious reasons and the families of hundreds of thousands of men from enemy-occupied countries who escaped abroad to fight in the Allied armies and have had no word of their kin for years.

To reunite these families, to return children to their parents, to re-establish contact between refugees and the relatives and friends who can help them rebuild new lives, will prove one of the most taxing and complex jobs in the postwar world.

Anglo-U.S. Oil Pact Signing This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain and the United States will sign this week the first formal agreement on postwar international trade when the final seal is put on the oil pact.

Delegations headed by State Secretary Hull for the United States and Lord Beaverbrook for Great Britain have been discussing oil policy for a little more than a week, and agreement is understood to have been quickly reached.

Main result will be the establishment of an Anglo-American commission on oil moving in international trade.

The commission will have purely advisory powers, and the plan is that it will make recommendations to each government, which can then pass them along to private oil-producing companies either as advisable plans or as law, if Congress or Parliament sees fit.

The Anglo-American agreement, which aims at orderly development of the world's oil resources within the framework of free competition but with safeguards against competitive waste, is considered primarily an interim pact until other United Nations can be brought in. Moves towards talks with Russia, Venezuela, Colombia and other oil-rich countries will get under way immediately.

The agreement is considered a valuable beginning in further pacts on other important commodities which assume military and political importance in international trade.

The United States has begun exploratory talks with Britain and the Netherlands on synthetic rubber, and such commodities as wheat and cotton probably will be reviewed later. Canada will be particularly interested in any international agreements covering wheat, and undoubtedly will be represented at any such conference.

Labor Unions Most In Favor Lifting Of Compulsory Savings

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION
TORONTO—Dominant attitude of Canadians toward the recently lifted compulsory savings plan is one of approval that the government has seen fit to stop deductions for this purpose. This feeling is strongest among members of labor unions and their families, and among residents of Quebec province.

There is, however, the Institute finds in a national survey, a strong minority group (over a third of all voters) which feels that the compulsory savings deductions should not have been abandoned.

In conducting its survey, the Institute's opinion reporters across the country asked a representative cross-section of the population this question:

"Until recently, wage earners had compulsory savings deducted from their pay. This plan was stopped July 1. Do you think it should have been stopped or do you think it should have been continued?"

The number of those who think it should have been stopped falls just short of a majority of adult Canadians. Should have been stopped 49%, should have been continued 37%, undecided 14%.

The stopping of compulsory savings is most popular in Quebec, least popular in the prairie provinces:

	Quebec	Prairie
Stopped	62%	29%
Undecided	14%	16%

Deductions from pay for this enforced savings plan appears to have irked members of labor unions, and their families, to a

Gen. Dewitt Named To Succeed McNair In Important Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The assignment of Lt.-Gen. John L. Dewitt to succeed Lt.-Gen. Lesley J. McNair in an undisclosed command of great importance in Europe was announced Sunday night by the War Department.

Dewitt, former commanding general of the 4th army and the Western Defence Command with headquarters at San Francisco, has been commandant of the joint Army-Navy Staff College in Washington for the past 13 months.

In his west coast command, he headed the mobilization of defenses of the coast after Pearl Harbor and carried out the evacuation of Japanese nationals from critical areas.

McNair, former commanding general of the army ground forces, was killed in Normandy July 25 by a bomb from a U.S. plane participating in the bombardment which opened the way for the break-through of U.S. forces near St. Lo.

His assignment overseas, and the destination of Lt.-Gen. Ben Lear as his successor in command of the ground forces, was announced by the army July 14, but no hint was given, then or since, of the nature of the assignment, except that it was of great importance.

McNair was with forward elements of U.S. infantry observing the front line action when he was killed.

Now Zenith's Crusade to Lower the Cost of Hearing Comes to Canada!

The New Zenith Radionic Hearing Aid

Sold Direct By Mail to You at $40 Canadian Currency!
Complete, Ready to Wear with
New Neutral-Color Earphone and Cord

ZENITH made history in the United States by bringing a fine quality, precision Radionic Hearing Aid for the first time within reach of all. Selling for $40 complete, it revolutionized the cost of hearing in the States. Now that same instrument is available direct by mail to Canada's hard of hearing—at $40 complete (Canadian currency) with no additional charge for transportation, duties and taxes!

How Can $40 Buy This Fine Precision Quality? Because mass production makes possible far greater precision than small production, at the same time lowering costs. Zenith world leadership in precision mass production... Zenith experience in the manufacture of radionic products exclusively... lowered the cost of the portable radio from $200 to $29 for a better radio. Now Zenith does it again—this time for the hearing aid!

A parallel of Zenith's achievement is the modern automobile and fine watch. The watch you carry is a precision mass production product. Otherwise it would cost you ten times as much and not be as accurate. Through precision mass production Zenith has, in fact, brought you an even finer hearing aid for $40!

You Can Fit It Yourself! Directions Included! You can buy the Zenith by mail because it's built to an improved, modern principle of INSTANT PERSONAL ADJUSTMENT. Simple, complete instructions sent with each instrument show you how to fit it yourself, how to "focus" it for your individual needs—for different voices and surroundings—as easily as you focus a pair of binoculars.

Thus, with the Zenith, there's no need for frequent adjustments by high-pressure salesmen. And Zenith's direct method of sale eliminates the need for special offices, home calls and other expensive "trimmings." You get the benefit: a fine, precision hearing aid at about 1/4 the cost of other quality vacuum tube instruments!

Satisfaction Guaranteed—or Your Money Back! There's no longer any reason for you to put off enjoying all the benefits of good hearing. Send for your Zenith today—begin a new life of greater happiness, more confidence, increased earning power. Use convenient coupon below—enclose money order or check (do not send cash). Your new Zenith will arrive promptly.

Only Zenith Gives You All These Great Advantages

1 New Neutral-Color Earphone and Cord
Note "new look of youth" of Zenith's Earphone and Cord! Scarcely noticeable by comparison with "black button." Blends with any complexion. Cord is perspiration-proof... kink-proof. Won't fray. Wipes clean with damp cloth.

2 New "Self-Focus" Hearing Control
The flick of your finger brings hearing into range for your particular needs—for different voices and surroundings—as easily as you focus a pair of binoculars. Outsmiles the old-way "fixed adjustment" principle.

3 Zenith's Finest Quality—About 1/4 the Price
You get the fine precision that modern knowledge and engineering made possible, at about 1/4 the price of other quality vacuum tube instruments on the market today. Only Zenith gives you so much for so little!

AFTER 25 YEARS

FEW WHO ATTENDED THAT MEMORABLE Liberal convention in Winnipeg which selected Mr. Mackenzie King to succeed the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier as leader of the party would have dared to predict that his supporters of 1919 and a rising generation of Liberals would be manifesting their confidence in him a quarter of a century later. Still fewer would have suggested that the man they are honoring today was destined to play the distinguished and responsible role of Prime Minister of Canada for nearly 18 years of the period. What the future holds for the political head of the senior overseas Dominion, now in his 70th year, is something which must be left to the future itself. On this 25th anniversary of the proceedings in the prairie capital, however, it is interesting to note for the record that the Canadian who almost became a Harvard instructor has achieved a remarkable success comparable to that of the two great Canadian party leaders—Sir John A. MacDonald, and the man with whom Mr. King was so closely associated and whose mantle he inherited, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The former, by the way, was Prime Minister for a total of nearly 19 years, a record which endorsement by the people at the forthcoming general election may enable the present incumbent of that office to surpass.

Mr. King has fought six general elections since the Winnipeg convention of Aug. 7, 1919—1921, 1925, 1926, 1930, 1935 and 1940, winning five and losing one. Although the Liberal Party elected the largest following in the first two post-war contests, in neither of the Parliaments could the Prime Minister consider himself secure. And it was Lord Byng's refusal to grant him a dissolution that produced what became known as the constitutional election of 1926—following, of course, the defeat in the House of the ill-starred Meighen administration. After a hiatus of 88 days, however, Mr. King again took charge of the ship of state with 125 party followers, a small but clear majority. But defeat came four years later; the "time-for-a-change" complex and a collapsed economy then casting its ominous shadow over this and other continents were the twin imponderables that helped to bring about five years of Tory rule which resulted in confusion worse confounded.

Utterly exasperated by that one constitutional term of reactionary fiscal experiment, the voters in the 1935 fight returned no fewer than 171 Liberals, the greatest majority ever enjoyed by any political leader in the House of Commons up to that time. But remarkable as was that tribute to efficient leadership, when the Prime Minister asked the electors for a new mandate in March, 1940, they gave him a following of 178 supporters with whom to meet the present or 19th Parliament. Small wonder that this emphatic endorsement of the government reduced Mr. King's main opposition group to a state of impotence and confusion from which it has never recovered. With this record in mind, and in view of his personal accomplishments in the wide range of public service, it is wholly fitting that the adherents of the party over whose destinies he has presided in peace and in war, in good times and bad, should be honoring their leader today.

There have been times when we have disagreed with some of the policies espoused by Mr. King's government. We shall do so again when, in our opinion, it does not reflect the true concepts of Liberalism or resorts to those subtleties of expediency which tend to weaken its basic philosophy. Making due allowances for the exigencies of war and their relationship to the Canadian political structure, one or two of the Prime Minister's colleagues do not always shine as the exemplars of that faith their chief inherited from the great Laurier—the faith which, on the other hand, Mr. King himself has not betrayed when vital decisions have demanded his final judgment. All fair-minded Canadians will congratulate the Prime Minister on the fact that his government's practical accomplishments and progressive endeavor overwhelmingly surpass those shortcomings and ills to which the body politic is heir. And when in particular the historian surveys the Canadian scene in the light of the leadership which Mr. King has given his party and the country for so many years he will no doubt record the salient fact that no man in high office has contributed more to the important and difficult task of the preservation of Canadian unity and the Dominion's cordial association with the rest of the British Commonwealth than the Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King.

RUNNING OUT OF SUPPLIES

LONG AGO IT WAS STATED CATEGORICALLY by authorities on the world's natural resources that one of the chief factors that would contribute substantially to the downfall of the Third Reich's war economy would be a progressive shortage of metals and oil. Apart from his manpower difficulties and the destruction of many factories, dwindling supplies of important metals already have been reflected in the quality and quantity of Hitler's output of planes and tanks and railway equipment. Persistent attacks over many months against the numerous synthetic plants, not to mention the great Ploesti installations in Rumania, are now paying out dividends to the Allies in the same proportion as they are producing new dilemmas for the German high command.

It was small wonder, therefore, that Marshal Stalin yesterday ordered another of his triumphant artillery salvos when he heard the news that one of his valiant armies had captured the great natural oil supply area of Drohobycz—the last in this enemy-occupied territory. This city lies in that part of Galicia annexed by Russia in the 1939 partition of Poland, and overrun, of course, soon after Hitler launched his ill-starred invasion more than three years ago. Poverty in oils and metals thus are helping to a considerable extent the Allies in the Battle of France. Their daily successes are suggestive that before very long the Fuehrer's mechanized armor will be compelled to grind itself to a standstill.

AS OTHERS SEE US

SOME PEOPLE AND SOME NEWSPAPERS in this country—generally, of course, for political purposes—find it very difficult to discover anything worth commending in Canada's magnificent war effort. They will allude in glowing terms to what Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have done for the cause of the United Nations; but if they get around at all to an appraisal of this Dominion's contribution to victory, they either pitch their comment in a minor key or adopt a tone which borders on the apologetic. And when these critics contemplate this country's future, particularly under the guidance of a Liberal administration at Ottawa, they seem to lose their sense of proportion entirely. On the subject of Canada's stature, however, the Times of London—viewing the Canadian scene impartially and understanding present realities and potential prospects—paints the following editorial picture:

"In industrial production Canada already ranks fourth among the United Nations and she has by no means reached the limit of her expansion. The facilities which her geographical position gives for the development of air transport and the proved skill of her airmen make it certain that Canada will have a leading part to play in the future of civil aviation. The establishment of air bases in the Arctic Circle will continue to bring her into increasingly intimate contact with Russia; her special and cordial relations with the United States, to which President Roosevelt alluded recently in a message to the Canadian Prime Minister, will obviously be an important factor in the destinies of both countries. In every field the broad outlook of the Canadian people is well adapted to that new conception of empire which is giving purpose to the policies of all the nations of the Commonwealth, closely bound to the three great allies, rich in material resources and industrial skill and equipped with a clear doctrine of responsibility towards the world. Canada is sure to maintain, in the councils of the nations, a position of authority commensurate with her contribution to victory."

Some of our domestic political grumblers, indeed, remind us of a simple passage in Quentin Reynolds' latest book, "The Curtain Rises." The author had returned from the battle zones only to find chaotic thinking and political bickering in his own country, and in the quiet hotel in which he was resting he was expecting a passing bell boy to be stopped and asked, "Is Roosevelt dead yet? and when the bell boy said 'no,' an elderly, black-tied gentleman would look disappointed and go back to sleep." Mr. Reynolds wondered at times whether his country was fighting Great Britain or Nazi Germany. The general inference would seem to be fairly obvious; but then, this is presidential election year.

SLOWLY BUT SURELY

ANOTHER AMERICAN TASK FORCE has battered important installations in the Bonin Islands, 600 miles from Tokyo, adding for good measure the sinking of 41 Japanese surface craft. Coupled with the gradual rolling back toward Nippon of the battle map in other vital parts of the broad Pacific, this latest demonstration of Allied might and daring initiative would seem to add to Mr. Churchill's belief that the final subjugation of the Oriental member of the Axis may not be long delayed after the Fuehrer of all the Germans has thrown in the sponge in Europe. What with admitted unrest among a large section of the officer caste of the Wehrmacht, the necessity for a complete governmental overhauling in Tokyo, the next few months, or weeks, may present the world with the first clear outline of the end of totalitarian tyranny.

RECORD HIGH EXPORTS

DURING THE FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF the present year, exports from Canada amounted to $1,400,000,000. This was an increase of almost $400,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1943 and it was the highest amount in the history of Canada. The largest volume of exports went to the United States which, during the first five months, purchased Dominion commodities valued at $527,000,000 this year as compared with $431,000,000 last year.

Exports to the United Kingdom during the first five months of the present year amounted to $525,000,000 as compared with $344,000,000 during the same period last year. It is of interest to note that, during the first five months of the present year, Canada exported nearly $70,000,000 worth of goods to Italy. No such exports, of course, existed a year ago.

During the first five months of 1944, exports of army vehicles and parts aggregated $194,000,000 as compared with $140,000,000 during the same period of 1943. Exports of wheat showed a very substantial increase, amounting to $163,000,000 this year as compared with $58,000,000 a year ago. Guns, rifles and firearms exported during the period under consideration had a value of $97,000,000 whereas, during the first five months of last year, they aggregated only $40,000,000. The value of cartridges and shells exported amounted to $141,000,000 this year as compared with $105,000,000 last year.

Conscription

From Winnipeg Free Press

THE CURRENT AGITATION for over-all conscription is not without elements of danger. The great majority of people believe that, as in 1917, conscription for overseas service must be applied if it is necessary. Equally, however, there is a sound sense of realism which is prepared to accept the present system of raising men so long as it produces satisfactory results. The danger arises because so many who favor conscription if necessary may be persuaded that a crisis in military manpower now exists.

Under these circumstances the speech delivered by Col. Ralston in the House of Commons on Monday is of importance. Col. Ralston, it will be remembered, accepted the National Mobilization Resources Act of 1942 with definite reservations in favor of over-all conscription if and when necessary. In every major speech he has made since becoming minister of national defence he has pledged himself to support the voluntary system for overseas service only as long as it produces the required reinforcements. He renewed this pledge on Monday afternoon in these terms:

"I am for keeping our army overseas 100 per cent volunteers if we can do it; but if we cannot maintain the army overseas with volunteers and it is necessary to send N.R.M.A. men, there can be no alternative for me but to recommend action under the act, and I shall do so."

COL. RALSTON MADE two points which bear directly on the present controversy. First, he declared that the voluntary system is producing the required number of men and, second, he explained in detail why the present home defence army is essential. On the first point he gave the following facts:

Casualties have been substantially lower than anticipated. The reinforcement pool overseas—exclusive of men in hospital who may return to service—is well up to strength. In addition there are 50,000 active service men in Canada who are waiting despatch overseas.

The needs for overseas replacements are estimated at about 4,000 men per month, so that at the present time there are sufficient reinforcements trained or in training to maintain our overseas army at full strength for the remainder of the present year. Recruits are now being sought for 1945 and it is important to obtain them because six months are required to train men for combat.

Recruiting is yielding more than the required number of men. For the period January to May the average monthly intake of volunteers was slightly more than 3,800. In June it was 6,000.

These facts prove that the voluntary system is producing the necessary number of men and therefore Col. Ralston is strongly in favor of continuing it.

ON THE SECOND point, Col. Ralston gave no encouragement to those who have been advocating the disbandment or use for overseas service of the home defence army. This force consists of some 73,000 men and it is a part of the current conscriptionist campaign to insinuate that it is made up chiefly of French Canadians. This, it turns out, on the authority of the Department of National Defence, is untrue. The proportion of French Canadians in the N.R.M.A. is about the same as the proportion of French Canadians to the total population—approximately one-third.

The home defence army is divided as follows: Operational duties, 35,000; non-operational duties, 13,000; training centres, 14,000; depots, 4,000; on leave for essential civilian work, 7,000.

Col. Ralston went over each group to show that it was either doing essential work or was in a transitional stage. The operational units are located at defence points on both coasts, in Newfoundland, Labrador, Nassau, Bermuda and Jamaica. The disposition and strength of these units, and this is of key importance, were decided by the military staffs of Canada and the United States, the best military judgment available to the government. Undoubtedly the United States home defence dispositions are being made on precisely the same kind of advice. Since the invasion of Europe, the needs for home defence are being reconsidered by the military staffs and Col. Ralston will act on the advice he receives.

THERE CAN BE no question of the use to which these 35,000 men have been put. If conscripted men were not available, active service men would have to be used.

The 13,000 men on non-operations duties are also doing essential work which should have to be done in any case. The Navy and Air Force, which are comprised wholly of active service personnel, have comparable home establishments. No explanation is needed for the 14,000 men in training. The 4,000 men in depots are awaiting re-allocation and the 7,000 men on leave for essential civilian work require no comment.

Col. Ralston said that as speedily as possible those in the home defence army who are unfit for active service are being discharged. The same course is being followed with respect to active service men. In the last six months 30,000 have been discharged, of whom about 7,000 were N.R.M.A. But there are in the home defence army about 50,000 men who are fit for active service and who, if the need arose, would be sent overseas. With these men, Col. Ralston is not willing to part.

News Analysis—The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

The most fascinating spectacle of the flaming battlefronts today—and a key position to watch—is that loose left wing of Hitler's Normandy Line which is flying wild like a pennant in a hurricane.

It was the tearing away of that Nazi flank from its coastal anchor which let the U.S. armored forces loose to rampage through Brittany. Now it's being swung back to open the route to Paris, as witness the glad news that American columns achieved the crossing of the Mayenne River in five places and are roaring on towards the French capital in the favorable open country between the Seine and the Loire rivers.

That lashing pennant is symbolic of Hitler's whole position at this critical moment—both in the fighting zones and on the home front. Just as he is trying frantically to stabilize that Normandy line and also keep it from being torn away from its right anchor at Caen, where the British-Canadian forces are attacking again today, so he is straining every nerve to reorganize his civilian war effort in face of the recent revolt organized by the Prussian generals.

The Fuehrer is facing the monumental task not only of repairing the shaken morale of his troops but of his people. He must do this at a moment when both his eastern and western fronts are being riddled with holes, and there's no question the disaffection has deep roots.

The next three weeks may indeed vastly clarify the war picture. We already know Hitler is beaten—and he knows it—but we don't know how long he may be able to hang on. His every move indicates his determination to fight to the last ditch if he can get his army and home front to support him. Three weeks may disclose his prospects.

AND HE A BACHELOR!

From St. Thomas Times-Journal

Right on our main street we encountered a young woman wearing shoes, an abbreviated skirt, and some kind of a backless affair above which left, in front, what we may delicately refer to as her midriff exposed to view. A few moments later we encountered another young woman—not a child—wearing sandals, a pair of very short shorts and what we believe is called a brassiere; nothing else whatever. Our steps took us indoors at that moment, else we might have proceeded a few yards farther and come upon another young woman in the sort of costume that Eve wore.

PAYMENT

From Phoenix Flame

Camping out on an especially muddy locale, some American soldiers in Italy appropriated a stack of straw from a nearby farmstead to serve as flooring for their tents. Later a gesticulating Italian farmer appeared and demanded payment. Unable to make themselves understood, one of the soldiers took a scrap of paper from his pocket and very carefully wrote something on it. This satisfied the complainant for the moment, but the next day he was back looking for it capitano. This paper had been inscribed: "Good for 100 rides on the merry-go-round at Coney Island."

WHAT A PARTY!

From Toronto Star

What a queer fix the Progressive Conservative party finds itself in, trying to reconcile the second part of its name with the newly-adopted first part. Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald denounced balance-of-power policies and Mr. Bracken congratulated him on exposing their dangers. But Sir Thomas White, ex-finance minister, who was offered the Conserving their dangers. But Sir Robert Borden prior to Mr. Meighen getting it, comes out with a defence of balance-of-power. What a party that would be to govern Canada!

English Knight's Son Here To Play First Lead

LEON AMES
... Norwegian fisherman.

PETER LAWFORD
... his first lead.

By J. N.

Peter Lawford, 21 years of age, one of the rising stars of Hollywood and a son of Lt. Gen. Sir Sydney Turing Barlow Lawford, famous British soldier, arrived in Victoria Sunday to play his first Hollywood lead, that of an R.A.F. officer in "Son of Lassie."

Since he was seven years of age, Peter Lawford has been acting first in motion pictures in England, later on the stage in various parts of the United States and in Honolulu and since 1937 in Hollywood.

Dark and very quiet, Lawford still has his English accent, with many Americanisms in manner. He was so tired when he arrived here, after a four-day much delayed trip from Hollywood, that he spent most of Sunday afternoon in bed. Today he is seeing something of Victoria before starting work tomorrow. He has a letter from Nigel Bruce to his daughter Pauline, who is in the Canadian air force at Patricia Bay.

Though he doesn't say much about it, one of his greatest disappointments has been refusal of both British and American armies to accept him for service because of injuries he suffered years ago when he fell through a window in France. He first volunteered two years ago with the British consul in Los Angeles, but was refused. Later the American army turned him down. So he tries to make up by helping with entertainment of sailors and soldiers.

He has played many roles in Hollywood, gradually working up from minor parts until he has now reached the top. He appeared in "Yank at Eton," and has one of the leads in "White Cliffs of Dover." His English accent is invaluable in many pictures, as it will be in "Son of Lassie." He says he much prefers the screen to the stage.

Lawford's father, who joined the British army in 1885, has served in the Royal Fusiliers and the Essex Infantry Brigade, and fought in South African and 1914-1918 wars. He and his wife make their home in Hollywood with their son.

OTHER ACTORS

With Mr. Lawford to Victoria came Donald Curtis, formerly of Spokane, who plays the role of Lawford's pal, an R.C.A.F. man, in the movie; Leon Ames, who will be Anton, a Norwegian fisherman, and Robert Lewis, who is both a director and an actor, and who will be in "Son of Lassie," a Nazi sergeant who is killed by Lassie. Not long ago Mr. Lewis played the role of a Japanese captain in Pearl Buck's "Dragon Seed."

Newspaper reporters who interviewed the party found the actors much more interested in talking about Victoria, which they had never before visited, than about themselves. In fact, they wouldn't talk about themselves at all, but insisted on telling of the fine, juicy beefsteaks they had for lunch; the fact that they could purchase an article for 50 cents, hand the clerk a $10 U.S. bill and get $10.50 back. They were delighted to hear they could get shoes without a ration coupon.

Mr. Ames has his eye on china and linens which he saw in store windows during a Sunday afternoon walk; Mr. Curtis wanted to know if there were any exclusive perfumeries here, because he wanted to take his wife some rare perfume. Mr. Lawford said he was going hunting for camel's hair garments. All wanted to know about the fishing; they wanted to know the size of Vancouver Island and were amazed to find it is 350 miles long.

Donald Curtis, left, who will play an R.C.A.F. man and Robert Lewis, whose role will be a Nazi sergeant killed by Lassie.

They seemed surprised to find no definite Canadian accent, and to learn Canadians look and talk like Americans, though they could see some difference in Canadian pronunciation of a few words, such as about and ration. Mr. Ames said he was disappointed not to find Victoria like a little bit of England, on the surface at any event. They thought perhaps women here look more English than the men they asked Mr. Lawford what he thought about this, but Mr. Lawford said he hadn't observed as yet. All thought the long twilight here was wonderful; in Hollywood it's dark by 8 p.m. Mr. Curtis and Mr. Rothwell took in the afternoon baseball game.

Students Depart From Summer School

Classes ceased at the Summer School last Friday at Victoria High School when 750 students wrote examinations in approximately 50 different classes, but there will be considerable activity around the school for another two weeks, Dr. C. B. Conway, director of the school, reported.

Most of the instructors are still on the premises busily marking the examination papers, and will be on the job for two weeks. Extra markers were put on to aid some of the out-of-town teachers. Dr. Roy G. Bose of Santa Monica, Miss Bernice Bachelier of Hunt, Idaho, and Dr. John A. Hockett of Los Angeles, have already left for their homes.

Results will be mailed to the students as soon as they are available, Dr. Conway said. There has been a steady stream of students leaving since Friday night, although there are still about 200 who are remaining in Victoria for a few days' holiday. Dr. Conway estimates that only between 5 and 10 per cent of the students were Victorians.

Another job that is keeping the office staff busy is the returning of equipment and library books borrowed from other schools in Victoria and on the mainland. This job will also take approximately two weeks.

Dr. Conway is confident that all the teachers who studied at the school have been satisfactorily placed, although all the schools who requested teachers from the ranks of summer school students did not get supplied.

"We have no over-supply of teachers in British Columbia," he said. "Although our situation is not nearly so desperate as it is in the prairie provinces where, I understand, they have to close

Girl Pitcher Hit On Head by Ball Comes Up Smiling

By ANNETTE SEYWRIGHT

Sparks flew higher than those from a forest fire at Langford when the Victoria Box "wonder girls" sank the groggy army demons and came out victors with a juicy 25-18 win at Victoria West Park in a fastball game.

The V.B.'s sat in clover all evening commanding their opponents, and hitting the jackpot now and again, making the C.W.A.C. "cut-ups" take their medicine. But then with Gordie Perkins on hand coaching the V.B.'s, the army gals' chances were as scarce as hen's teeth. Somner, who pitched her team into the earned victory, is to be credited for her hard work, but then the whole team were on their toes doing the Highland Fling... and doing it right.

We missed Flo Kennedy, the army pitcher, whose absence was noticed immediately by the crowd. Also noticed several changes in the rest of the team, which probably makes up for some of their unaccustomed weak spots, who seemed to have jammed their guns for the nonce. Incidentally, I noticed some of the army girls who almost ran into barb wire again, and expected another hair-pulling procedure in the very near future... what, again!

COMES UP SMILING

At the other end of the field, the handsome Adverts played the Unitys, and made them dance to the tune of 16-9. It was a tight game from the beginning and neither team scored till the fourth stanza, when the Adverts started the ball rolling with a homer made by their pitcher, Joyce Mitchell. The Unitys' pitcher, Helen Pettigrew, did likewise. Good going Helen, we really think you are a credit to your team. Sorry about that home-base collision. Helen got banged on the forehead and went out like a light, but came to smiling. Bouquets to Vickie Murray, shortstop, who is one of Unitys' most dependable products.

And as for the Adverts who always put on a great performance, we can all take our hats off for watching you is a pleasure indeed, although I was a bit confused about that first base racket... who said what? I've got awfully good ears May...

Adverts batteries—J. Mitchell and D. Mitchell. Unitys batteries—Helen Pettigrew and Manson.

Reports on Mine

Reports that the Referendum Mine property now being redeveloped was part of the 1898 "fabulously rich" old Granite-Boorman Mine, located 11 miles from Nelson, was challenged today by B. T. O'Grady, mining engineer of the Department of Mines, who some years ago was stationed in the Kootenays.

Loaned to the securities branch as adviser, Mr. O'Grady said: "The Referendum Mine is located on Forty Mile Creek, and never was part of the Granite-Boorman. Furthermore, the Granite-Boorman never was profitable as a company operation. It may have paid lessees and promoters, though."

"Last report of the Referendum made to the Mines Department was in 1907. It was then a one-claim proposition. The new outfit may be made up of old Crown-granted claims abandoned by their former owners and which in due course reverted to the government."

several hundred schools for lack of teachers." He said that 21 schools in British Columbia would be closed for lack of teachers according to the last figures he had received.

Planting an area to forest usually means setting out approximately 800 trees to the acre.

Looking longingly at the water and posing only for a minute, Deryk and Pamela are seen at the beach with their mother, Mrs. Fred Smith, who, with her husband and children, has come from Calgary to spend the summer in Victoria. With them is the children's pet, "Spotty."

Weddings

FOUBISTER—LEAKE

The marriage took place Saturday afternoon at Fairfield United Church of—Winnifred Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leake, late of Chamberlain, Sask., and CPO. Stanley S. Foubister, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foubister, 1025 Pandora Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale pink sheer afternoon frock with accessories in tone. Her corsage bouquet was composed of pink roses and gardenias. Mrs. C. C. Messerschmidt was matron of honor, wearing pale blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. C. Messerschmidt was groomsmen and ushering was Writer Art Malane, R.C.N.V.R.

During the signing of the register Miss Ruth Garrod sang "Because." After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and a few close friends. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Garrod, a friend of the bride's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Foubister left by plane for Vancouver en route to Regina and other Saskatchewan points. They will make their home in Victoria.

DOUGLAS—MERCER

St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, was the scene of a wedding Saturday, when Muriel Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mercer, Benkensop Road, became the bride of Ian Scott Douglas, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. J. S. Douglas and the late Mrs. Douglas, North Vancouver. Rev. F. Pike officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk sheer of the Elizabethan period, trimmed with real Irish lace. Her finger-tip veil was silk embroidered and she carried a white prayer book surmounted with red roses and white streamers.

Mrs. D. L. Roberts, a matron of honor, wore a floor-length frock of fuchsia sheer and carried a maul of Peter Fisher car. Miss Beverly Quick, Squamish, bridesmaid, wore a pink silk net frock and carried a Colonial bouquet. Miss Dorothy McDonald was flower girl, and wore yellow sheer. She also carried a Colonial bouquet.

Cpl. A. E. Baylis, R.C.O.C., of Parkville, was the best man, and Messrs. D. L. Roberts, F. Briggs and Michael White, cousin of the bride, were the ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. For a honeymoon trip to the mainland, Mrs. Douglas wore a cardinal ensemble with brown accessories.

TAYLOR—BONE

Robina, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bone, 2540 Rosebery Avenue, became the bride Saturday at noon in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, of George Taylor, 3120 Donald Street. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns read the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a frock of aqua crepe, and her flower hat, veil and accessories were white. Her corsage bouquet was composed of gardenias and pink rosebuds. Miss Agnes Bone was her

To Seaman's Missions

Victoria depot of the Royal Naval War Comforts Committee has received a letter from the Missions to Seamen, London headquarters, acknowledging arrival of case No. 40. The consignment contained 54 pairs Mellor gloves, 29 pairs sea-boot stockings, 18 knitted caps, 91 pairs socks, 11 pairs mittens, nine jerseys, one Indian set, seven cloth caps, 11 turtle necks, three pairs gloves.

At the annual meeting of the Missions to Seamen in England, the Earl of Selborne bore testimony to the indispensable work of the Mission to Seamen as a voluntary society with a ministry of persons to persons.

Young Writer Gets $1,050 Scholarship

Kathlyn Ketcham, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ketcham of North Bend, B.C., has been awarded a $1,050 scholarship to study at the Forman School, Litchfield, Conn., 80 miles from New York City.

The Ketchams are well known here, being frequent visitors. Their son, Bill, now at pilot overseas with the R.C.A.F., attended Victoria High School before enlisting.

Kathlyn is one of the most promising young writers in this province. She has had several stories published and has won a prize for a fairy story. She took first place in the junior contest for prose in the McMillan Fine Arts Club, Vancouver. She read one of her stories to the Writers Club meeting in Banff. The Formans who have a home in Banff which they visit each summer, became interested in Kathlyn's work and awarded her a scholarship.

Women in Shorts Banned in Monahans

MONAHANS, Texas (AP)—Women in shorts are taboo on the streets of Monahans these days. When one shapely—or otherwise—female appears in such attire, she is sent home, and quickly.

The city council passed the ordinance as an "emergency" and perhaps, strangely, the measure has been popular, even with the women.

Mayor Ed. Ouffey of this town of 4,000 was in favor of it "because so many women call every day and ask us to put a stop to shorts on the street."

Plan Garden Party

A garden party will be held Aug. 16 at the home of Maj. and Mrs. Piddington, 441 Lampson Street, under the auspices of the Esquimalt Unit of the Red Cross. Men and women of the three services will be admitted free.

Attractions will include an apron stall arranged by Esquimalt United Church and convened by Mrs. T. Wallace; white elephant stall, Mrs. E. Kennedy for St. Paul's Anglican W.A.; home cooking convened by Mrs. A. Mainprize for the P.P.C.L.I. Auxiliary; stork shop, Mrs. R. McVie Community Club; garden stall, Mrs. C. Swayne, assisted by Mrs. W. E. A. Barclay and Miss Alice Polley; tea, Mrs. George Wise, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Jones and Mrs. A. H. Fea; bingo and other games, convened by Mrs. N. Kelly for Esquimalt Women's Institute.

Miss Eva Hart will sing. A valuable jewel case, over 160 years old, and made of Irish bog oak, will be drawn for. It will be on display in the window of Red Cross headquarters, 1010 Government Street.

BARREL FUND AIDS PRISONERS

Mrs. Cecil Merritt, mother of Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., of Vancouver, will launch the Prisoner-of-war barrel at Lytton on Labor Day.

This barrel which weighs 200 pounds travels to the Pattullo bridge at New Westminster and the person who guesses the closest time will win $2,000. The proceeds from this fund which is being sponsored by the New Westminster Rotary club will be evenly divided between the Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster branches of Canadian Prisoner of War Relatives Association. The headquarters in Victoria are at 1031 Government Street.

Social Situations

The situation: Parents tell you their son has been rejected by the army because of some physical ailment that is enough to this, qualify him for army service, but not enough to handicap him in civilian life.

Right way: Don't assume that they are happy over their son's rejection. They might be insulted unless you have heard them say they hoped he wouldn't be accepted.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix—What do children owe their parents besides the conventional love, honor and obedience? Also, what feeling should exist between brothers and sisters?

18-YEAR-OLD BOY.

Answer: The amount of love and honor you owe your parents is a debt that automatically settles itself. You love and honor them if they are kind and tender and affectionate to you and if their lives are such as to inspire respect and reverence in you, but nobody can expect children to love parents who are cruel and hard to them, or parents who live degraded lives.

Also, the amount of obedience children owe their parents depends upon the justice of the parents' demands. After a child has reached the age of reason he must use his own judgment in obeying his parents. A mother, for instance, has no right to force her daughter to obey her and marry a man she doesn't love nor has a father a right to expect his son to obey him and go into an occupation for which he has no taste.

So far as money is concerned, it is the children's duty to support their parents if they are old or sick and in want.

The relationship between brothers and sisters should be that of affection and comradeship, a sort of super-friendship, because they have not only the tie of association and congeniality but also of blood and a common interest. When this love exists between brothers and sisters, it is one of the most beautiful and satisfying of all human relationships.

Situated 25 miles north of Toronto at King, Ont., "Eaton Hall," lovely farm home of Lady Eaton, has been loaned to the Royal Canadian Navy to be used as a convalescent home. Use of the property has been granted by Lady Eaton for the duration and one year after.

Use of the residence included furnishings. Additional furniture and equipment is being donated by the Eaton Company.

Approximately 75 surgical and medical cases will be accommodated in the 35-room house, which contains nine large bedrooms, six complete bathrooms and two washrooms. There is a music room containing a harp and organ and a motion picture projection room, complete with sound equipment and a safety projection booth.

Set on rolling farmland overlooking two lakes, Eaton Hall was completed in 1836. The exterior of light Credit valley limestone forms sharp contrast with the green lawns and background of wooded acres. The 750-acre farm contains two private lakes. In 1919, when Sir John and Lady Eaton took over the property, a reforestation program was undertaken and now pines line the driveways. The house is bounded by junipers and red cedars, with Virginia creeper climbing over the chimney breast.

Grounds in the immediate vicinity consist of three or four acres of clipped lawns, part of which are suitable for tennis courts, croquet and lawn bowling.

A MATTER OF DEGREE

In your editorial of Aug. 3 you stated that the increase in bank deposits is due to increased investment by the chartered banks in Dominion of Canada bonds. It is pertinent to observe that during the cycles of high commercial and industrial activity, the volume of exchange of goods and services is greatly accelerated, and obligations whether in the form of cash or cheques, are liquidated in greater volume through the chartered banks, which act as the clearing houses of trade. This situation has been intensified by reason of the fact that capital undertakings of the federal government incidental to the prosecution of the war, have stimulated the creation of additional media of exchange, either in the form of currency or term obligations. This additional circulation has had the effect of securing to suppliers, without de-

WRITE SONG IN JAP PRISON CAMP

Pte. Elmer McKnight... held by the Japanese, he writes prisoners' theme song.

Canadian orchestras are featuring "I'll Never Say Good-bye Again," the new song hit that was composed in a Jap prison camp and broadcast over short wave from Tokyo.

Written by Pte. Elmer McKnight of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, who was taken at Hong Kong, the song was picked up and recorded by a Canadian government listening station.

—With McKnight when he was taken prisoner at Hong Kong were his twin brother, Gerald, and another brother, Melville.

The three McKnight brothers, together with Johnny Matheson, Douglas Morrison and Bill Robertson, all of Winnipeg, and Johnny St. Clair, Chicago, were members of a small band who broadcast the song from Tokyo.

Just off the press, "I'll Never Say Good-bye Again" has been adopted as theme song by the Royal Rifles of Canada, War Prisoners' Association members of which are relatives of Canadian soldiers taken at Hong Kong. They cannot send parcels to their boys and have received only one letter each from them since December, 1941, when they were imprisoned.

All royalties from sale of the song are being deposited to the credit of Pte. McKnight. It has a haunting tune and the words go like this:

I'll never say "good-bye" again, I'll never make you cry again, I'll never say "good-bye" again to you.

Though we're apart, you're in my heart.

Fond memories come back to me Of happy hours that yesterday.

At the end of each day In my dreams I drift away To the harbor where my dreams will all come true.

And when the clouds roll by again, With rainbows in the sky again, I'll never say "good-bye" again to you.

Coast Guard Win Streak Broken

TACOMA (AP)—The Seattle Coast Guard Repair Base baseball team broke a winning streak that ran to 30 straight games Sunday when they kicked away the second game of a doubleheader with the Fort Lewis Warriors.

The game was to have decided the unofficial service championship of the northwest.

The Coast Guard defeated the soldiers 8 to 2 in the seven-inning first game and dropped the second 8 to 7, on a five-run rally by the Warriors in the ninth inning.

The tying and winning runs of the second game rally were scored on wild throws by Coast Guard players. Two other of the five scores were walked in by a Coast Guard pitcher.

RUSSIA LOST MUCH LAND AS RESULT OF FIRST WORLD WAR

Many readers have asked questions about Russia, so today we shall have an article about that country, with questions and answers.

"Who was the first Czar of Russia?"

The first man to take the title of "czar" or "tsar" was Ivan IV, better known as "Ivan the Terrible." His father had been called "the grand duke," but Ivan wanted a better title. He was crowned czar on Jan. 16, 1547.

For the comfort of the masculine home nurses who may face a like situation, may I say that this young man was doing a remarkably good job, but of course he needed a little instruction. In addition to showing him how to bathe the baby, these are some of the things the nurse told him to do in order to protect the baby from infection:

1. Keep a clean overall apron handy to slip into before you pick up the baby, because your clothes, worn in public, may carry germs.

2. Wash your hands thoroughly with soap and water and clean your fingernails with a toothpick before you touch the baby.

3. Always wash your hands with soap and water after you change the baby's diaper, before you do anything else for him.

4. Always wash your hands with soap and water before you fix the baby's water bottle, or give him to his mother to nurse.

5. If you have the slightest sign of a cold or cough, before you do anything for the baby, cover your nose and mouth with a clean handkerchief, folded cornerwise and tied at the back of your head.

6. Be very careful to keep the cord dressing on the baby's umbilicus dry and clean. This can usually be done if the baby's shirt and diaper are kept clean and dry also.

7. Do not allow the baby to be kissed on the mouth or face by anyone, and do not let anyone who has a cold or illness of any kind into his room.

Rabbit raisers speak of their rabbit "herds" as composed of "bucks" and "does" and (in California) of their rabbit "ranches."

That is a hard question to answer.

Lassie, Million-Dollar Dog, Here To Make Picture

One of the world's greatest and most loved dogs came to Victoria Sunday to star in the M-G-M production "Son of Lassie," and on his first informal public appearance—to have his picture taken for the newspapers—attracted a crowd of dog lovers and movie fans.

Lassie the dog's name, though he played the role of a female in his first picture, "Lassie Comes Home," will be taking his rightful part of a male in the new picture.

Lassie is a beautiful collie, dark sable in color, with a white collar and white ruff. He weighs 85 pounds and is four and a half years old. One of the most perfectly trained dogs Hollywood has ever seen, he is not under a five-year contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. As soon as he finishes "Son of Lassie" he will start another picture.

S.P.C.A. WATCHES

Rudd Weatherwax, owner and trainer of Lassie, thinks there is no other dog as fine in North America and dog fanciers are inclined to agree with him. Mr. Weatherwax is here with Lassie and the dog's party is composed of him, Frank Inn, assistant trainer and William McNally, of the S.P.C.A., who is constantly in attendance to see Lassie doesn't work too hard or too long. There seems to be little need of such supervision, for Mr. Weatherwax thinks the world and all of Lassie and treats him with the care and consideration he does his own children.

All great motion picture stars have their doubles, and Lassie is no exception. Ruff, a 10-month collie is in the party, too, ready to fill in for Lassie should the star not be feeling well.

No chances, however, are taken on Lassie's health. His own drinking water has been brought from Hollywood in 12 5-gallon bottles. Change of drinking water is death to a well-bred dog, says Mr. Weatherwax.

Lassie is almost on a strict diet: he eats perfectly balanced foods and when working hard on location gets lots of meat. He eats, on an average, a pound and a half of ground round steak a day, all personally prepared by Mr. Weatherwax and Mr. Inn.

In the U.S. now, meat is pretty scarce and that daily pound and a half of steak for Lassie is not always easy to obtain.

"We eat fish," Lassie gets the meat," said Mr. Weatherwax, adding that his family agrees with this plan.

SIRLOIN HERE

Mr. Weatherwax was delighted to hear meat is no longer rationed in Canada and that Lassie can probably dine on porterhouse steak in Victoria.

Lassie's daily food depends on his daily work. When working hard he gets more to eat. He gets exercise regularly, goes for a walk first thing in morning, at noon and last thing at night.

Because of this wonderful care, Mr. Weatherwax says Lassie will live longer than most dogs.

"Picture dogs always live longer," he said. "They live four times as long as the average dog, because of the care they get."

Lassie is staying here at an apartment hotel with Mr. Weatherwax and Mr. McNally, who sleep in the same room with him. There is a balcony to the apartment and the dogs get their sun there. Their food is prepared in the apartment's kitchen.

KNOWS ALL TRICKS

Lassie is a dog of many moods. Under Mr. Weatherwax's instructions, he flew viciously at Mr. Inn, as if ready to tear him limb from limb, next minute he was kissing Mr. Inn affectionately. He played bad dog and sad dog, and did the usual parlor tricks. Lassie is so beautifully trained that Mr. Weatherwax can bring out almost human emotions in him. He can keep his room tidy, picking up bits of paper and putting them into baskets. He knows the sound of his own metal collar; when Mr. Weatherwax picks it up and jingles it Lassie rushes to the door. Mr. Weatherwax has many such collars in his kennels at home, but Lassie knows his own by the sound, though no human could possibly tell the difference.

Mr. Weatherwax, who has a way with dogs, is one of the dependable of Hollywood. Whenever a movie company wants a dog, Mr. Weatherwax is phoned. He has 40 dogs in his kennels at North Hollywood.

Lassie doesn't like motorcycles and that is how Mr. Weatherwax came to get him. The dog's original owner, who called him Pal, sold him to the Weatherwax kennels because he kept chasing motorcycles. Mr. Weatherwax makes no secret of the fact he paid only $10 for Lassie. Now, of course, Lassie is priceless—what movie star isn't, with a five-year contract with one of North America's leading picture companies?

Lassie still has that aversion to motorcycles, or perhaps it is that motorcycles have a fascination for him. Sunday when he was running around the apartment garden a motorcycle went by. Lassie picked up his ears, became excited and would have chased after it if Mr. McNally had not called him back.

Lassie will be in Victoria about three weeks, going on location every day to Christopher Point, in the Sooke district, and Patricia Bay, where most of the outdoor sequences will be taken.

No Water License

Application of Adams River Improvement Company for renewal of water license on the Adams River has been refused, Ernest Davis, the government's controller of water rights, said today.

Mr. Davis said this action had been taken in the public interest. Fish interests had objected to renewal of the license, because they said it interfered with the fishing industry.

The license, which expired Aug. 3 and will not be renewed, dated back to 1904.

United Kingdom Minister of Food will shortly receive 700 tons of raspberries and 100 tons of strawberries in SO2 solution, from British Columbia, the Department of Trade and Industry said today.

Resumption of volume movement in SO2 fruits to the U.K. has been made possible by a long series of negotiations between departments concerned.

1,057 Forest Fires To Date in B.C.

There have been more than 1,000 fires in B.C. forests to date this year, according to the weekly report of the government's forest branch.

So far there have been 1,057 fires, one of the heaviest fire seasons in recent years. To date this time last year there had been 658 fires, and in 1942 the figure was 637.

Greatest number of fires—295—have been in the Vancouver Forest District, which includes Vancouver Island. Last week 113 new fires broke out, but 114 were extinguished, several of which had been burning some days.

Druggists Plan War Savings Stamp Drive Next Month

Druggists here are showing enthusiasm in connection with the third annual druggists' War Savings Stamps sales drive, according to Ben Franklin, chairman of the provincial committee of the drug trade travelers handling organization and promotional arrangements in connection with the drive. Last year B.C. led all Canada in per capita sales during September when the drug trade staged its annual war savings stamp sales campaign, and also secured the second highest actual sales in the Dominion, with a total of over $100,000 for the month.

The remarkable success was largely due to the public appeal of the free drawing for prizes presented by the drug trade in connection with the campaign. Over $1,000 was collected from druggists throughout the province to pay for the cost of the prizes and printing of tickets. This year Mr. Franklin has found that druggists in Victoria have so far made the most generous contributions in the province to this year's prize fund.

JENKINS HEADS DRIVE

Mr. Franklin came over from Vancouver to confer with R. V. Jenkins, B.C. Drugs' manager at Victoria, who has again been asked by the drug travelers to head up the promotional work in Victoria. Last year Mr. Jenkins not only organized the drive in Victoria, but also personally sold one of the highest totals of individual stamp sales in the province. During his stay in Victoria Mr. Franklin also conferred with Howard Knott, Five Point Pharmacy, secretary of the Victoria Retail Druggists' Association; W. Bond, manager of the drug department of David Spenser Ltd.; W. Gough and J. Harding, managers of the two stores of the Cunningham chain in Victoria; J. Darling, Darling Drug Store, and other druggists who took a leading part in organization work in Victoria last year, and has been assured of their co-operation this year.

Fred H. Fullerton, acting manager of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association, is also in Victoria. He states that the outstanding interest shown in Victoria will provide him with interesting information to present to Cyril Landers, general chairman of the national committee in charge of the campaign.

Frank Miggins, commodore of the "Sea-Going-Hacks," as the drug travelers' organization is known, will arrive in Victoria this week, and will discuss with the local committee the possibility of the drug travelers joining in promotion of a dance in Victoria on September 29 in connection with the stamp sales drive. Last year about 51,800 in stamps was sold at a similar dance in Vancouver.

The total volume of standing saw timber in the United States was reduced almost 40 per cent in 30 years.

Want Stadacona To Be Playground

A donation of $50 or provision of suitable equipment is sought by 40 residents of Stadacona Park for conversion of that decorative tract into a playground.

The request was forwarded to the city today in petition form and was signed by representatives of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Association, in addition to private residents.

Victoria's move to have R.C. A.F. target-towing planes conduct their manoeuvres over the waters of the Strait of Juan de Fuca and to keep away from the city, has been advanced to the minister concerned, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., informed the city by letter today. Similar action had been taken on another request to have C.P.A. planes fly over water from Victoria instead of over the city.

Y.M.C.A. Camps

Fifty-five boys between the age of 10 and 12 will go to camp at Camp Thunderbird in the Sooke hills tomorrow. On the same day 65 boys from the junior camp will return to the city after 10 days at camp.

The younger boys will be attending the prep boys' camp and will be there for a week. On Aug. 16 the camp will be visited by the "Y" Board of Directors and members of the Kiwanis boys' work committee. The Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a number of the boys at camp and has

By PETE SALLAWAY

FOUR TEAMS to participate in the play-offs for the city baseball championship may not be determined until the clubs wind up the league schedule Friday night. Eagles completed their schedule Saturday night but the results of two games the R.C.A.F. Flyers will engage in this week will have a direct bearing on the fourth team to make the finals. Final standings are liable to find the Eagles and Flyers in a deadlock, forcing a sudden-death game to determine which of the two outfits goes into the play-offs. If such a situation arises the Eagles will be favored in view of the star players lost to the Flyers in recent days.

ALTHOUGH I have no wish to lay the blame at anybody's feet the situation that keeps Tommy Musgrave out of league baseball is an unfortunate one. From a reliable source I was told today that the big right-hander will not pitch again this season in league or play-off games. Reasons for Musgrave's decision to hang up his shoes for the season are pretty well known although they have never been brought out into the open. I have talked to all parties concerned and feel they would get together and bury the hatchet everybody would feel a lot better. Musgrave is too good a pitcher and too nice a fellow to be kept out of baseball. There is no doubt the Victoria Machinery Depot club needs his services badly if they hope to make any kind of a showing in the play-offs.

I HAVE no desire to hang out a lot of dirty washing on the line and give everybody a chance to air their opinions. From a chat I had with Musgrave he led me to believe he would like to get back in the game with the V.M.D. club but feels he cannot do so until bad feelings that exist between certain parties have been smoothed out. Although some pretty bitter remarks have been passed back and forth I feel that all concerned are big enough to forget their personal grievances and give Musgrave the go ahead for his return to baseball. It would be much better to straighten out the problem in a quiet way rather than by attempting to force anybody's hand. Think it over, gentlemen, and I hope that this week will see Musgrave back on the mound. Baseball needs him and he wants to pitch ball.

ROSS (BUD) HOCKING is a lucky fellow when it comes to scoring a hole-in-one on the golf links. The other evening at Oak Bay Bud canned his tee shot on the 13th hole and was playing by himself, although he was accompanied by a friendly friend who witnessed the feat. Several years ago Hocking registered a dodo on the same hole and it came at the tail end of a tournament, with few fellow players around the clubhouse. On that occasion it cost Bud exactly $3 to set them up. So the total cost to Bud for two holes-in-one was just three bucks. He certainly got off light.

HERE'S the answers for Saturday's baseball quiz:
1. Alfred von Kollnitz, Chicago White Sox, major; 2. Roger Bresnahan, New York Giants, 34 in 1903; 3. Joe Bush, with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916; 4. Harry (Moose) McCormick of the New York Giants in 1912.

V.M.D., Army Win Baseball

Shillito Hurls Well

Victoria Machinery Depot and Army ball clubs came up with a pair of shutout victories in Saturday's games. Shipbuilders, behind the masterful four-hitter pitching of Cy Shillito and hit home run clouting of Rex Patterson and Babe Work, blanked the Navy 5 to 0, while the troops turned on the Eagles for an 8 to 0 triumph.

Win for the V.M.D. moved them two full games in front of the pack and practically clinched first place in the final standings. Army and Navy are still deadlocked for second position, while the Flyers are fourth two games ahead of the cellar-dwelling Eagles. Clubs will close out the league schedule Saturday. Flyers have two games left on the schedule and must win one of them to clinch a spot in the playoffs. Two defeats would leave them tied with the Eagles for the number four spot and force a sudden-death game to determine which team goes into the city championship series.

Tonight's game at 6:30 will see the Flyers tangle with the Navy. Shillito, the league's leading pitcher, was in rare form Saturday to beat the Navy. His fast ball had a real hop, while his control was perfect. The right-hander struck out five and walked a pair, while his teammates gave him errorless support.

Lanky Jimmy Ingamells started for the Navy, but his fastball offerings received rough treatment, with extra-base blows proving his downfall. Jimmy gave up seven hits, with three of them accounting for four runs. Bobby Weigand hurled the last inning for the bluejackets after going in to hit for Ingamells in the eighth.

HIT BALL HARD
V.M.D. moved into a 1 to 0 lead in the second frame when Patterson lifted the ball over the centre field fence for his second Ruthian clout of the season. Shipyarders pushed across another three runs in the third. After Shillito and Work had hit successive singles, Harney lined the ball into deep right field for three bases and scored himself on an infield out. In the fifth first sacker Work smashed the ball over the fence for the final run of the game.

Work, who injured his left ankle in the pre-game warm-up, took the batting honors with three for four.

With tall Bill Prior returning to the pitching mound to hurl six-hit ball and third baseman Bud Westline clouting the hide off the apple with a home run, triple, double and a single, the Army had little trouble with the Eagles. Army lost no time taking over with two runs in the first inning and added to their margin as the game progressed.

Prior struck out nine and walked four and really kept the safeties scattered with the Eagles never getting more than one hit in any one inning. Bill Arts made his first pitching start for the Eagles and lasted until the fifth, after allowing seven runs and a like number of hits. Ray Maitland, who replaced him, worked one inning when his brother Ted took over and was charged with five hits and one run during his four-inning trip.

Bowling Tourney Opens; Doubles Draw Announced

With a record entry play opened today in the 17th annual holiday tournament of the Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association. Official opening took place at the Beacon Hill greens of the Victoria Club with President A. W. Stewart extending a welcome to the visiting players from all parts of the Pacific coast.

First jack was thrown by Harold Beckwith, association president, and the first ball rolled by Charlie Middleton of Tacoma.

Secretary Alex Playfair, who is officiating as tournament manager, got play under way which will continue through to the finals Saturday. Men's and women's rinks will be in action all day with singles scheduled tonight.

In announcing the draw for the doubles today Playfair advised all skips to get in touch with him at the Victoria Club before tomorrow afternoon for time of play and greens.

Doubles draw follows:

York—Charles Boyer in "Hara Kiri."

Murphy and Dorsey At Capitol Theatre

The dancing feet of George Murphy, the lilting voice of Ginny Simms and the music of Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra. Put them all together and you have Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical funfest, "Broadway Rhythm." The new technicolor move is to be seen on the screen of the Capitol Theatre today.

Others who appear in the all-star cast are Charles Winninger, Lena Horne, "Rochester," Ben Blue, Nancy Walker, Gloria De Haven and Kenny Bowers. The picture was directed by Roy Del Ruth and produced by Jack Cummings.

Hires Gangster 'To Bump Him Off'

"The West Side Kid" now appearing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres is one of the most interesting pictures seen here for a long time, and grips the attention right from the first reel. Old Sam Winston, millionaire, is so disgusted and heartbroken with his family that he hires a young gangster to "bump him off" to escape his misery.

Donald Barry gives an excellent characterization of Johnny April, while Dale Evans is brilliantly effective as Gloria. Henry Hull, as old Sam Winston, turns out one of his usual sterling performances, and Matt McHugh, Chick Chandler and Nana Bryant are excellent as The Worrier, Shoeace and Mrs. Winston respectively.

'Old Mother Riley' Shows at Dominion

A complete surprise is brought to Canada with the uproarious British film "Old Mother Riley Joins Up." Nothing quite like this irrepressible old dame has ever been seen by picture audiences in this country.

The biggest surprise for people who make the acquaintance of Mother Riley when the film comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow will be that this unique character is played by a man. The brisk old dame is the creation of Arthur Lucan of Lucan and McShane, favorite comedy team of the British screen.

Home Heroines In 'Tender Comrade'

Four women defence workers, whose husbands are overseas, fight loneliness and terror in Ginger Rogers' "Tender Comrade." RKO Radio picture now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

Their respective lives before their husbands left, contrasted to their problems as they wait for their men to return, present an emotional appeal not soon forgotten.

Tension was high during the making of Paramount's exquisite technicolor filmization of "Lady in the Dark," now showing at the Cadet Theatre. The costume people were driven almost crazy by the incessant change of garb. A half dozen of them did nothing but iron fresh dresses for Ginger Rogers, who co-stars in this dream of a picture with Ray Milland, Warner Baxter and Jon Hall.

Combine Terror, Music in Picture

Splendor, terror and musical drama are merged sensationally in Universal's "Phantom of the Opera," currently at the Rio Theatre. The lavish thrill production stars Nelson Eddy, Susanna Foster and Claude Rains. Filmed in Technicolor, the picture tells the story of the madman composer who sends terror and destruction crashing down into the Paris Opera.

McGeer Challenges Bank Act Clauses; Agree On Housing

OTTAWA (CP)—General agreement on the government's $275,000,000 housing legislation was recorded as the bill passed through preliminary committee stage in the Commons Saturday with some members qualifying their support by saying it didn't go far enough.

After cleaning up housing bill preliminaries, members spurted through a bill designed to extend the charter of Canada's banks for another 10 years. At adjournment they had passed through all but three of the 165 clauses of the bill.

G. W. McGeer, L. Vancouver-Burrard, one of the House's keenest critics on economic subjects, called "stand" on three clauses which he was expected to oppose on resumption of discussion of the bill this week.

The three clauses have to do with opening stock books, cash reserves and bank powers. Two party leaders, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., and John Blackmore, Social Credit, opposed the bill, while Mr. Isley and Roy Graham, L. Swift Current, Sask., supported it.

CAN BE INCREASED

On the housing bill, Mr. Isley said in answer to a question from Mr. McGeer that the $20,000,000 provided for slum clearance could easily be increased to $60,000,000 or more if Parliament so desired.

Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Blackmore argued similarly housing should be made available to the masses on the basis of a modest rental.

Mr. McGeer wanted to know how the figure of $20,000,000 had been arrived at for slum clearance. He thought the government would be able to spend that much alone on removing Montreal slums.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, said it was all very well to pass housing legislation, but "we must also have the materials to build the houses."

Materials were in short supply and this formed a powerful factor impeding the possibility of meeting successfully the acute housing shortage.

Mr. Isley replied that if municipalities and provinces were interested in the project Parliament could very well increase the amount of further appropriations.

The almost fanatical patriotism which is traditional with the Japanese is clearly illustrated in "Hara Kiri," the startling dramatization of Claude Farrere's prophetic novel "The Battle," which stars Charles Boyer, Merle Oberon and John Loder, and is now being shown at the York Theatre.

Determined to learn the secret of the success of British naval strategy, Yorisaka, the Japanese naval commander, places tradition above honor by behaving in the traditional Oriental manner.

Without hesitation, Yorisaka subtly yields his hurt, but obedient wife in return for the cherished secret.

2-Year Mayoral Term Efforts Revived Here

Efforts to secure a two-year term for mayors and reeves were revived by Ald. John A. Worthington today.

The alderman introduced a motion asking the City Council to endorse a resolution to the Union of B.C. Municipalities:

"That the Municipal Act be amended to provide that all may-

1,500 See Reservists

Fifteen hundred people visited Gordon Head Reserve Army camp Sunday for one of the biggest "at homes" ever held there.

The messes were filled with a steady stream of relatives and friends getting refreshments.

A concert, given by the combined band of the 3rd Bn. (R), Canadian Scottish Regiment and the Prince Rupert Regiment, kept the air filled with a holiday spirit.

Trooping through the barracks, the guests were shown the quarters in which the soldiers slept, the cookhouses where their food was prepared, the parade grounds and the canteens.

Units at the camp are, the Scottish regiment, Prince Rupert Regiment, Veterans' Guard and No. 2 Group, No. 11 Reserve, Divisional Ordnance Workshop, R.C.O.C.

R. F. Taylor, 78, Dies in Hospital

Rowland Fennings Taylor, 78, for 35 years a resident of Victoria, died Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of six months.

Mr. Taylor was born in Ottawa and came to Victoria in 1908 to open a branch for the Merchants' Bank, picking out the bank site where the present main branch of the Bank of Montreal at Douglas and Yates now stands. When he left bank service, Mr. Taylor became manager of the Bankers' Trust Company here and later was associated with Cathels and Sorenson, lumber firm with interests on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

For many years Mr. Taylor had been interested in the J.B. A.A. having served as president several times and was one of the workers in moving the clubhouse from the Inner Harbor to the George and later to Robert Street. He also worked for the Citizens' Recreation Room during the depression, was active in betterment of the Protestant Orphanage and the Aged Men's Home. At one time he was president of the Union Club. His home in recent years had been in the Waldron Apartments.

Unmarried, Mr. Taylor is survived by two brothers, L. F. Taylor in Ottawa and H. F. Taylor in England and cousins, the family of the late H. H. Nash.

Revolution Leader Here From Spain

With a death sentence imposed by Franco hanging over him, Zacarias P. Carles, former officer of the Spanish army and later a revolutionary leader, is in Victoria today.

While Franco's executioners were waiting a chance to lay hands on him, he came from England to this continent. With him is his wife, a Spanish girl, who also would face a firing squad if she were caught there.

Mr. Carles said that he was a professor in Spain and after reaching Canada became a professor at McMaster University, Hamilton. He resigned from the university recently to become head of the Spanish Christian Mission, 33 Adelaide Street W., Toronto.

"I guess I have been a man without a country," said Mr. Carles. "Well, not exactly without a country now, as I have learned to love this fair land of Canada and my wife and I now speak of it as ours."

"Things are uncertain in Spain. Since Franco's victory almost all Protestant churches have been closed and many pastors shot and others in grave danger of being shot."

In Victoria Mr. Carles and his wife will speak at a number of meetings and will be the guests until Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jenner, 1557 Oakland Avenue.

Finds Strange Sailor On Couch, Smoking

Awakened by a noise downstairs at 12:20 Sunday morning, Mrs. R. Mould, 1132 Queens, found a sailor, in a dazed condition, sitting on a couch, smoking. She told police she had attempted to hold the sailor while awaiting the arrival of Constables Stanley Cornish and F. Parry, but the sailor broke loose and escaped through the back door.

Band Concert

Twenty-five hundred people turned out Sunday afternoon to Beaton Hill Park to hear the band concert presented by the Esquimalt Garrison Band under the baton of Bandmaster G. E. Bower. The program included a fine collection of marches, classical numbers and light opera selections.

With Our Servicemen

By DICK FREEMAN

Signm. Ronald H. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stark, 1133 Fort Street, who was reported killed in action in France, June 16, and later reported safe with his unit. Writing his parents under the date of July 22, Ronald apparently had no idea of the consternation caused by the unfounded report of his demise. He lives to fight again.

Lieut. Ralph E. Sparks, R.C.N.V.R., recent graduate from special officers' training course at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. His wife resides at 2355 Musgrave Street.

Griffith Cameron, who went into Normandy with the United States engineers as a lieutenant, has been promoted to captain, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Cameron, 1221 Fairfield Road, have been advised. Capt. Cameron, who is a graduate of U.B.C., joined the U.S. forces as a private two years ago and after getting his commission went to Florida for special training which preceded the invasion. Cpl. Wallace Cameron, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, is now spending furlough here. He has been with the U.S. Army Air Corps for two years and has been training in radio and gunnery. His last post was at Yuma, Ariz. After going through Victoria High School, "Wallie" was attending University of Washington when he enlisted.

The youngest son of the Camerons, Allan, has just returned to the Canadian Army Vocational Training School in Saskatoon, after spending two weeks' leave here.

Lieut. Roger Patrick O'Connell graduated from Royal Military College, England, July 29, and has been commissioned in the Canadian Armored Corps. He is the second son of Mrs. H. M. O'Connell, 77 Moss Street; enlisted with 3rd Div. Petrol Coy., R.C.A.S.C. in June, 1940, and has been overseas for three years. In March of this year he served as best man at the wedding of his brother Seldon, in England. He was educated at St. Louis College and was employed at the Union Club prior to his enlistment.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gardner, Miller Avenue, Saanich, have been notified that their son, Pt. Sgt. John Edward Gardner, R.C.A.F., was reported missing in air operations overseas July 29.

Liquor Commissioners Here Next Month

Canadian liquor commissioners will meet here Sept. 7 and 8 for their annual conference. W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the B.C. Liquor Control Board and president of the Canadian Liquor Commissioners' Association, said today.

The deputy minister of national revenue is also expected to attend the conference. All provinces, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, will attend. P.E.I. has prohibition.

Mr. Kennedy said today he thinks there will be more beer in the beer parlors in October, but chances of more bottled beer anywhere are very slim. Shortage of caps and cases and labor is likely to continue, he said.

Esquimalt beer parlors at present are open each afternoon from 2 to 6 and on Tuesday and Friday evenings, hour of closing depending on beer supplies.

Killed in Normandy

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pattinson, 2228 Oak Bay Avenue, have been officially notified by Ottawa that their son, Lieut. Roy Pattinson, R.C.A., was killed in action in Normandy, July 29.

Capt. Robert B. Mainprize, who has been promoted to that rank while serving in the field, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mainprize, and his wife, Vera, residing at 3080 Albany Road. He went on active service Sept. 1, 1939, with an infantry corps, volunteered for service with the British army on loan from the Canadian army.

Maj. R. H. Green, R.C.A.S.C., returned to Victoria Sunday after several months overseas and is spending leave with his wife and family at their home, 516 Rupert Street.

A veteran of the last war and a member of the militia, Maj. Green went active when war was declared in 1939. He proceeded overseas in March last and saw Hitler's secret weapon the rocket bomb when it was first directed against England. He does not minimize the damage caused by the doodlebugs but asserts that no weapon that the enemy can conceive will ever daunt the courage of the British people.

The major has two children, Bob, in the R.C.A.S.C. at Work Point, and Gordon, attending college.

FO. Charles Berry, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Roger) Berry, 1841 Chestnut Street, arrived home on leave Saturday afternoon after four years service overseas, chiefly in the Mediterranean theatre. "Too many of us fellows are portrayed as heroes, and I am no hero," said Charlie, clearly indicating on arrival that he did not wish to boost his own stock. "There are still lots of men over there, and we who have come back are just plain lucky."

Charlie is home under the new system of repatriation for air crew. He intends to make the most of his month's holiday with his people. Since he left home he has seen plenty of action over Germany, Malta and the Middle East. He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1940 at the age of 18 and after completing his training as a wireless air gunner arrived overseas in April, 1941. Within a few weeks of his arrival in England he took part in one of the earlier raids over Cologne when large power stations were destroyed in enemy territory. Not long after that he was transferred to Malta and later to the Middle East area where he was attached to the R.A.F. Wilt Squadron 294, a unit of the coastal command, his duties consisted of air-sea reconnaissance and rescue work. During his 22 months in that theatre he took part in the rescue of many Allied and enemy airmen forced down in the Mediterranean. The service of this branch of the air force, he said, has proved very effective.

Tpr. H. G. Brothers, after spending leave at his home, 1714 Hampshire Road, has left for eastern Canada.

Sgt. Pilot Howard Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baker, 1210 Monterey Avenue, has arrived overseas, according to word received by his parents today. "Howie," who went into the R.C.A.F. from Victoria College, graduated with his wings last May.

Complain of Prowlers

Four complaints of prowlers were made to city police during the week-end.

Detective George Clayards and Constable Samuel McKenzie found the main door of Ramsay & Adams Foundry Co. Ltd., 435 Garbally, was insecure when they investigated a report of two men near the building at 9:50 Sunday night. The district was searched without results.

Mrs. R. Zanelli, 719 Esquimalt Road, complained of a prowler being on the veranda of her house Sunday night.

Another prowler was reported to be climbing the fire escape of the Beverley Hotel at 3:30 Sunday morning. He had gone before police arrived.

SHEET MUSIC—RECORDS—BAND AND ORCHESTRA INSTRUMENTS

LETTER TO A YOUNG MAN OF TEN YEARS

"So you're taking music lessons! Kind of interesting isn't it! Naturally there are days when it's tough to practice—and the gang is waiting outside."

"But keep at your music, son. It's a little hard to make you see the value now, but later on, when you're eighteen or so, your ability to play the piano will help you a lot—entertaining the bunch at a party—possibly getting a job in an orchestra during the summer to help pay your way through college. Maybe you'll never be a great pianist—but every lesson you take will give you a closer acquaintanceship with the great music and musicians of the world. Just understand that music can open doors for you socially that will be of importance later on in life."

"Don't think about the social contacts now—nor the money you might earn at the piano some day (you won't think about them anyway). Just enjoy yourself at the piano—and the rest will come."

A permit for $2,500 alterations to Mrs. L. Gorman's home at 404 Linden was issued by the city building inspector's department today. Work will cover conversion of the dwelling into a three-suite apartment.

A motorcycle at 8:10 Saturday night crashed into John Meston & Co. Ltd. garage, turned over and caught fire. When police arrived the rider had disappeared. City firemen extinguished the blaze.

Two-year-old Marlene Ashworth, 1320 Steele Street, suffered a fractured right leg Saturday afternoon when she fell from a fence. She was attended by Dr. T. W. A. Gray at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Second in the Youth Commission 'teen age concerts will be held tonight at the Cyclophone, corner Douglas and Burnside, at 7:45. There will be a Cuban dance, waltz contest, singing by favorite vocalists, watermelon eating contests, comedy and boogie-woogie on the piano.

Theft of several boom chains and complaint of chains having been hacked through to release the logs was reported to city police Saturday by F. A. E. Manning of Manning Lumber Mills Ltd., 1910 Store. He also said an outboard motor valued at $100 had been stolen from the mill.

Bishop Names Vicar

The Bishop of British Columbia announces the appointment of Rev. N. S. Noel, rector of the parish of Wabana, Newfoundland, as incumbent of St. Mark's, Victoria. Mr. Noel, who is a comparatively young man, expects to arrive in Victoria at the end of September. He succeeds the Rev. O. L. Jull, who has been appointed as Hospital Chaplain.

Mr. Noel, who is a graduate of the University of Durham, is married and has two children. He is regarded as one of the leading and ablest men in Newfoundland.

One Dozen Eggs Yield 23 Yolks

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Double-yolked eggs, authorities state, occur on an average of two or three times per 100 eggs, but rich and fancy feeding may boost that output considerably.

That would appear to give Mrs. Nell Piton's Rhode Island Reds of the Burnt Ridge district some kind of record. This week-end she sold, through Cudlip's Grocery, a dozen eggs which yielded 23 yolks. Mr. Cudlip reported the percentage equaled the double-yolk output earlier in the year from the same birds. Once before 11 out of 12 have been twins.

"From what our customers tell us," Mr. Cudlip said, "about half the eggs we have received from Mrs. Piton have been like that."

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

HOME EMERGENCY SERVICE

A WAY BACK IN APRIL I wrote in this column about the experiment then about to be launched here to meet the problem created by the lack of domestic help, especially in time of family emergency.

The Canadian Red Cross Society, convinced of the need, undertook to sponsor and finance a Home Emergency Service through its Victoria branch for a period of six months.

The six months is not up until the end of October, but today I propose to tell you something of its success to date.

This was brought home to me by the report presented at a meeting of the committee which I attended only the other day.

THE SERVICE includes five whole-time housekeepers and three relief workers, all of whom wear uniforms.

All of them are women of special qualifications. They are not in any sense maids. Their job is to assist a family only during an emergency, such as illness, doing practical work in the home and giving instruction as opportunity offers.

Hence they are trained in home nursing and first aid, infant care and child psychology, meal planning and budgeting, and invalid cookery.

Some families need assistance for only a few hours a day for perhaps one or two days. In other more serious crises the worker may remain on a case for several weeks.

HELPED IN 25 CASES
Up to the middle of July, the Home Emergency Service had given assistance to 25 different families.

These included care of the household and children while mother is in the maternity hospital, or on return from hospital after a surgical operation or serious illness.

Anyone who has seen a breadwinner trying to cope with a family and home, and at the same time hold down a job, will appreciate what such help has meant.

Many of the cases assisted are families of servicemen, either here or overseas.

APPECIATIVE LETTERS
NO SURE proof of the good work being done by the Home Emergency Service can be deduced from the letters received from grateful recipients of the service.

One such says: "I have nothing but praise for your worker and this fine service." Another writes: "I must congratulate you on the choice of your fine workers. I was privileged to have Mrs. ... and Mrs. ... and they could not have been more efficient and kind."

A serviceman's wife wrote: "May I express to you my sincerest thanks for the wonderful help you gave me when I needed it so badly. I was very sick and unable to get help for my two kiddies until you came along and took over so efficiently."

While another grateful husband sent a 20-mile front in the high ground in front of the Cesano River, 38 miles south of Rimini. The Poles occupied Ripe and Lucia, while Italian troops on their left seized Montale and Ostra Vetere.
